Kate Robinson was appointed as the University Librarian in summer 2012. Originally a Theology graduate from the University of Manchester and with a Masters in Library and Information Studies, she has worked in libraries since the 1980s; contributing to a range of sectors within the profession, including public libraries, private members’ libraries and the advertising industry. Prior to moving to Bath in 1998, initially to take up the post of Academic Services Librarian, she worked at the Manchester Metropolitan University as the Deputy Librarian for their Business School.

Kate is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Library and Information Professionals (CILIP) and Vice Chair of CILIP’s Qualifications Board. She is a member of the Executive Board of the Society of College, National and University Libraries (SCONUL), which represents all university and national libraries in the UK and Ireland and many of the UK’s colleges of higher education. Kate is also a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and a Magistrate.
