

7TH INTERNATIONAL CSRCOM CONFERENCE PHD WORKSHOP

UNIVERSITY OF BATH SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT 16 (HYBRID) – 17 (IN-PERSON) SEPTEMBER 2024

The aim of this workshop is to provide doctoral students in the communication and CSR fields with an opportunity to discuss their research with fellow students and leading academics. The workshop will support scholars in establishing valuable networks and offer insights into developing a career in academia.

The two-day programme includes keynote speeches; seminars on publishing and reviewing; insights into methodologies; one-to-one meetings and lunches with mentors; and roundtable sessions.

- Amy O'Connor (University of Minnesota)
- Charles Cho (Schulich School of Business)
- Dennis Schoeneborn (Copenhagen Business School)
- Elanor Colleoni (IULM)
- Itziar Castello-Molina (Bayes Business School)
- Jeremy Moon (Copenhagen Business School)
- Laura Illia (University of Fribourg)
- Michael Etter (King's College London)
- Peter Winkler (PLUS)
- Robert Caruana (University of Sussex)
- Steve Brammer (University of Bath)

If you would like to attend the PhD workshop, please submit an abstract of your research project to phdseminar@csr-com.org by Friday 15 March 2024.

The abstract (up to three A4 pages, plus references) should concisely present the purpose or aim of your project, main theoretical framework/assumptions and (if applicable) research methods and preliminary/final results. All participants will receive a certificate of participation.

A reduced conference rate is offered to PhD workshop participants. More information on workshop and conference fees can be found on the CSRCOM website: <https://csr-com.org/phd-seminar/>

We look forward to meeting you!

CSRCOM Organising Team,

Diletta Acuti, Andrew Crane, Sarah Glozer, Anne Ellerup Nielsen, Christa Thomsen, Urša Golob, Wim Elving, Klement Podnar

#CSRCOM2024