

What next?

- The Circular Economy Show

The Ellen MacArthur Foundation hosts regular interactive broadcasts and webinars throughout the year showcasing innovation, discussing big ideas, and sharing disruptive stories as part of our goal to inspire action and innovation towards the circular economy.

All our previous sessions are available to watch on our Youtube channel.

- The Learning Hub

The Learning Hub platform is designed to guide you through curated, online, interactive deep dives of topics from circular design, to food and the circular economy, to making a circular economy pitch in your organisation, featuring case studies and expert knowledge. There are also a range of reports, publications and Higher Education Resources accessible via the website.

- Join the Teaching & Learning LinkedIn group, a platform used to communicate news, resources and topics in higher education and the circular economy.

- Sign up to the Ellen MacArthur Foundation's newsletter - or for academia and higher education-specific updates, the Higher Education Newsletter.

- Inside the Circular Economy: Beyond the Basics

An interactive, online seven-week series starting in March. Every week we will discuss a different topic, ranging from food, policy and design, to finance, plastics, and fashion. Participants will be given a weekly challenge to complete and will be able to debate and engage with others taking part in the programme.

- Applications have also opened for the From Linear to Circular programme - one of our flagship learning programmes, aimed at postgraduate students and early-career professionals with a good knowledge of the circular economy. For future From Linear to Circular programmes, please keep an eye on our website or register your interest.

- Keep up to date on positions and opportunities to work with the Foundation via our website and LinkedIn channels.

- Keep up to date and follow us via social media for the latest posts and news from the Ellen MacArthur Foundation -
