Well done – you’ve made it! All of the hard work that you put into getting here has paid off. You have arrived at one of the UK’s top universities. You are a student in a really good department and you are about to start on what could be one of the most exciting and rewarding phases of your life.

There are so many opportunities opening up for you, and not just academically. Over the next few years, you will meet people with backgrounds and life experiences very different from your own. You will have the opportunity to learn from each other as well as from some of the leading experts in their fields. It’s an exciting time and I really hope that you quickly settle into enjoying the experience.

You have chosen to study a subject that really matters and can make a difference in our world. The social sciences are the most ‘real world’ of all of the sciences. We deal with virtually all the major issues which are important in our lives such as gender, race, class, poverty, technology, international development, criminal justice, the environment, migration, education, health, religion and social work.

We are concerned with the real ‘life and death issues’ which affect individuals, families, relationships, communities, governments and of course the international community. We are not just in the business of understanding society; we are also in the business of helping to change it. As policy analysts, social workers, sociologists or simply as informed citizens who can see beyond the newspaper headlines or the conversations over coffee, our work is to understand how society works and how we might make it work better, or at least, differently. In the department, you will meet staff from different academic backgrounds including criminology, sociology, politics, economics, social work, geography, social policy and philosophy. They work with local, national and international organisations - governmental as well as non-governmental – and use their expertise to inform policy debates, influence action and bring about positive change. Above all, they are all passionate about what they do, and enthusiastic about the prospect of working with you.

You are here to test your ideas and to acquire new ones; to think in new ways; to meet people and to have conversations that will challenge many of your current beliefs and attitudes; to acquire new skills that will help you in the future. You are here to learn and to grow both intellectually and as a person.

It will be hard work but it will also be fun. I really hope that you make the most of the opportunity that you have created for yourself.

Professor Joe Devine (Head of Department)

ABOUT THIS HANDBOOK

This Handbook is intended for undergraduate students in Social & Policy Sciences starting in year 1, in the academic year 2019/20.

Please note that the contents of this Handbook are accurate at September 2019 but that information may sometimes be subject to change after this Handbook has been issued. Your Director of Studies or Unit Convenor will inform you of any changes that will affect your programme or a particular unit. For further information about unit and programme changes, see the Unit and programme changes section in this Handbook.

While this Handbook signposts information about regulations for students, it does not have regulatory status itself, and the Regulations available online (Regulations for Students: www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students and Assessment Regulations: www.bath.ac.uk/registry/nfa) are the most up-to-date and take precedence over the contents of this Handbook.

If in doubt about what applies to you, or if your circumstances change (for example if you are returning from a suspension of study, or transferring to a different programme) please contact your relevant Director of Studies for advice:-

Dr Piotr Ozieranski – Sociology, Social Sciences, Social Policy & Sociology & Social Policy

Dr Peter Manning – Criminology

Dr Justin Rogers – Social Work

Dr Michael Bloomfield – International Development with Economics

YOUR PROGRAMME

The Criminology, Sociology, Sociology and Social Policy, Social Policy, Social Sciences, and International Development with Economics degrees last for three years except those with a placement year. If you are doing a four year programme it will include a placement during the third year. Students on these programmes can choose to do a placement of at least 30 weeks.

The Social Work programme lasts for three years. Social work students must do two placements (80 days in Year 2 Semester 1 and 90 days in Year 3 Semester 2).

While the degree programmes are designed to prepare you for a wide range of careers in the public, private and voluntary sectors, their primary aims are:

- to develop your knowledge and understanding in social sciences
- to develop your critical and analytical powers
- to develop your skills, in particular
- intellectual skills
- research skills
- professional practical skills
- problem-based and collaborative learning skills
- interpersonal skills

BSc (Hons) Criminology

Criminology teaching at Bath is committed to exploring issues and theories of crime, criminal justice policy, and approaches to justice and redress across international contexts and from different disciplinary perspectives. Students will be equipped with the methodological skills required to study crime, while theoretical and topical units in the Department of Social Science will help students situate crime in the wider landscape of social and political life.

BSc (Hons) Sociology

Sociology teaching at Bath is based upon its international and interdisciplinary research strengths in inequality, work and employment, death and dying, international development and political sociology. The core of the sociology degree is made up of units in social theory and research methods and the philosophy of the social sciences. You can make up the rest of your programme from other sociology units, social policy, international development units or units from other departments.

BSc (Hons) Social Policy

Bath is one of the leading UK centres for social policy research and teaching. The programme includes detailed coverage of policy areas such as health care and social security, and the impact these policies have on people's lives. It is embedded in both global and comparative analyses of the dynamic nature of social welfare and systems of governance in the 21st century. Further, it is designed to equip students with the skills to analyse both UK and European social policies and the relationships between political values and social policy based on an understanding of theories of welfare state development and a critical approach to the use of sources of data about a range of policy areas.

BSc (Hons) Sociology and Social Policy

This joint degree provides an opportunity to combine the main features of the sociology and social policy programmes. The programme provides a good example of the Department's approach to social science by linking theoretical and practical approaches to questions of inequality and social justice. It combines an understanding of the theoretical basis of sociological perspectives and fundamental concepts in sociology with knowledge of welfare institutions, theories of welfare state development and an understanding of the relationship between human needs and social welfare.

BSc (Hons) Social Sciences

This is the most flexible programme we offer. There are fewer compulsory units on this degree. Your programme is made up of units you choose from sociology, social policy, psychology, politics and languages. It is especially appropriate for students who, while interested in the social sciences in general, do not wish to specialise in one particular discipline. You will take units in research methods and in at least two of the following areas of social science: sociology, international development, social policy, politics, and psychology.

BSc (Hons) Social Work and Applied Social Studies

The social work degree is the qualification for professional social work and draws on a range of social science subjects. The degree is approved by the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) to provide the skills, knowledge and understanding of values required to become a professional social worker. The programme seeks to ensure that the structural causes of disadvantage are addressed and that students become aware of prejudice and discrimination in institutions and individuals, including themselves, in terms of age, class, disability, ethnic or national origin, gender, mental health, race, religion and sexuality. In line with HCPC guidance students must pass all units in all three years.

BSc (Hons) International Development with Economics

The degree is based around four streams. Three streams focus on economic, political, and sociological dimensions; the fourth stream looks at links between these perspectives and the practicalities of working in international development. Therefore, your programme is made up of units from Economics, Politics, Sociology and Anthropology, and International Development. The programme is aimed at giving you an in-depth and critical understanding of the challenges facing our contemporary world—poverty, inequality, climate change—from a range of social science perspectives.

DEPARTMENTAL INFORMATION

Who does what?

Head of Department

Prof Joe Devine is the Head of Department. He has overall responsibility for all academic affairs of the Department, and is Chair of the Department's Undergraduate Programme Committee and Board of Examiners.

Director of Teaching

The Director of Teaching has responsibility for the strategic development of learning and teaching within the Department. Dr Sarah Moore is the Director of Teaching for undergraduate programmes in DSPS.

Director of Studies

The Director of Studies (DoS) has general responsibility for quality management and support to students within the Department. The Director of Studies also oversees the Department's assessment procedures. You should talk to your Director of Studies if you are thinking of taking Director of Studies approved units.

Senior Tutor

Ms Caroline Hickman is the Senior Tutor for the department.

The Senior Tutor is responsible for managing and monitoring the personal tutoring system for the Department. If you wish to change your personal tutor you can contact the Senior Tutor or the DoS.

Assessment Officer

Dr Kate Gooch is the Assessment officer for the Department. The Assessment Officer is responsible for processing all extensions requests and Individual Mitigating Circumstances (IMC) claims from students from all Undergraduate courses in the department. Requests should be sent on the correct forms with evidence to support the claim to sps-imc-ext@bath.ac.uk

Personal Tutors

A Personal Tutor is a member of the Department's teaching staff. S/he will help you to get the best out of your university experience and can guide you to sources of expert help – whether on academic progress or personal/welfare issues – when or as you may need it. You should always contact your Personal Tutor in the first instance if you are ill; if you wish to change degree programme, this includes changing from a 3 to a 4 year programme or vice versa; if you wish to leave the University or transfer to another Department of the University; or if you have any special circumstances which may affect your study or assessment. They will help you consider your options and whether you need to discuss the issue further with your DoS. You will meet with your Personal Tutor during welcome week.

Student Peer Mentoring

All first year students will be allocated a peer mentor who is either a second or third year student. Student peer mentors provide an additional support to first year students.

Peer Assisted Learning (PAL)

Some courses offer PAL sessions run by senior students (PAL Leaders) to help you practice your subject. PAL Leaders do not re-teach you or introduce any new material; instead, they help you to reflect on your lectures and work through recommended readings. PAL Leaders have studied your subject so know the demands of your course. If there is a PAL session for you, you will see it on your timetable.

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATORS

Claire Goldie is the programme administrator for the Criminology, Sociology, Social Policy, Social Sciences and International Development with Economics programmes. Her contact details are: hss-socialpolicy@bath.ac.uk or 01225 386245.

Robyn Northover is the programme administrator for the Social Work programme, and her contact details are: hss-socialwork@bath.ac.uk or 01225 386253.

They are responsible for managing the administrative arrangements of your programme, including assessment and examination processes. You can contact them in the Department office (3E 3.17) about any aspect of Departmental or University administration.

The Department of Social and Policy Sciences is primarily located in 3 East. The key part of 3 East that you need to familiarise yourself with is the foyer outside the Department Office (3 East 3.17). As well as being the point of contact for the two programme administrators and for general reception, the foyer also has submission boxes for hard copies of coursework, where required.

Communication between you and the Department

The Department office is based at 3E 3.17 you can come here for any information you need, or to let us know about changes in your contact details. You can also contact us on the relevant email address for all queries. If you have any forms to hand in or need to know anything, you can go to the office between the following hours:

Monday – Friday 10am – 12pm & 2pm – 4pm

If the office is closed, you can post forms in the box marked DROP BOX (this has a yellow label on there) by the coursework submission boxes outside the Office.

We contact you:

- Via your University of Bath email address. Most information is sent this way so please check these regularly (only use this one for University business – not your personal business as you will miss important information). This is how we let you know about timetable changes, cancellations, re-locations, information about examinations, coursework and meetings. You must always use your university email for all correspondence with us as this is the way that we can identify you.
- PLEASE MAKE SURE YOU REGULARLY REVIEW AND DELETE EMAILS AS APPROPRIATE SO THAT THERE IS ROOM IN YOUR INBOX.
- Via Moodle, where course unit and programme information can be found. The Moodle page for SPS undergraduate students can be found by the link below, You will be advised about this key resource during your welcome week.
<https://moodle.bath.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=54484>
- Using the Departmental website (<http://www.bath.ac.uk/departments/department-of-social-policy-sciences/>). This is where you will find news but also get access to a range of important information.

You contact us:

- By e-mail. (email address can be found via the contact list at the front of the handbook). You must always use your Bath email to communicate with us.
- By knocking on the doors of academic staff (all academic staff have 'office hours' These can be posted on Electronic sign up on Moodle or on their doors, but you can see them at other times by arrangement).
- By phone (see staff telephone list at the front of the Handbook).
- By calling at the Department office during the opening hours.

EXPECTATIONS

It is a University Regulation that you attend regularly. If you are not able to do so, or will be absent for longer than three days due to ill health, then you must contact your Director of Studies to discuss your situation and an appropriate course of action.

Further information

See Regulation 3: www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students

We believe that learning is best achieved when everyone is able to benefit from the knowledge, skills and experience that the whole class can bring. Your participation is important to the success of the whole class. On that basis, we expect you to attend tutorials, lectures and seminars in accordance with University Regulations. Failure to maintain regular attendance can result in a student being 'precluded from continuing their studies and, where applicable, their registration [can] be terminated' (Reg. 3.1).

Regulations also require students to notify the Department if they are unwell. Specifically, 'absence due to ill health shall within three days be notified by students to the Head of their Department if the absence extends or is likely to extend beyond the period of three days. Apart from illness students will be granted leave of absence only with the prior permission of the Head of their Department or the person to whom the Head of Department delegates responsibility in this matter.' In the case of DSPS, the person to notify is your Director of Studies and Personal Tutor.

Attendance Policy- Social Work and Applied Social Studies

In addition the general attendance policy of the Department of Social and Policy Sciences (set out above) the social work programme has attendance procedures that apply to all Social Work and Applied Social Studies students. As this course leads to a professional qualification, all teaching is directly applicable to the social work profession and is deemed essential. It is therefore the expectation that social work students attend all lectures unless there is a valid reason for their absence. A register is taken for all social work and applied social studies units and students are expected to email the unit convenor with their apologies and a reason for their absence from a lecture. Students are also expected to make up for the missed session by reviewing lecture notes on Moodle, discussing the lecture with their fellow students and completing the required reading. If a student misses 3 lectures in a unit, the convenor will email the student and their tutor to request that a meeting takes place to discuss their absence and how the student will make up for the lost learning opportunities. If a student misses 5 or more lectures in a unit the convenor will contact the student and the director of studies, who will then meet with the student and the unit convenor to discuss the absences, additional work may be set to help the student make up for the missed learning in lectures. Social work students who fail to maintain regular attendance may become subject to regulation 3.1 (discussed above).

Communicating with us

Staff will primarily contact you via your Bath email. We expect you to be regularly checking your email and responding if required. Teaching members of staff also have office hours, These are publicised during their lectures, on Moodle, and on their office doors. Some also have the option of being able to book an appointment online. Please feel free to call staff members by their first name.

Person finder

If you need to find out a staff member or students' contact details, the best place to start is using the University's person finder application online, which can be located from the Bath home page. <http://www.bath.ac.uk/contact/?search=advanced>

Email etiquette

We want to be able to reply to emails as promptly as possible. Please do not treat emails as texts or memos. Remember to start the email with Dear XXXX (eg. Dear Joe), write in full sentences and sign off with your name. Please do not expect an answer outside office hours, including weekends.

What to do if you need to raise an issue/complaint

DSPS Staff work hard to ensure that your learning experience is of a very high quality, but even the best units may have problems from time to time. If you have a concern or complaint that is related to DSPS, such as the content and/or delivery of a unit or timing of feedback, please use the follow process:

1. Contact the teaching assistant, teaching fellow, personal tutor, lecturer, unit convener or Administrator directly responsible to discuss your concerns.
2. If the issue is not resolved after 1, or you feel unable to contact that person, contact the Director of Studies for your programme or your academic representative on SSLC (the latter is your elected student representative).
3. If the issue is not resolved after 1 and 2, contact the Head of Department.
4. If the issue is not resolved after 1, 2 and 3, you wish to take the issue further, and the complaint is not about a mark, please follow the process outlined from stage 2 outlined at <http://www.bath.ac.uk/university-secretary/guidancepolicies/studentcomplaints.html> and given in detail at <http://www.bath.ac.uk/regulations/Appendix1.pdf>. If your complaint is about a mark for your work step 4 of this process would be for the Faculty to undertake an academic review, details of which can be accessed on: <http://www.bath.ac.uk/registry/appeals/acad-review>

SP10159 Academic and research skills II: introduction to quantitative methods

SP10043 and SP10044 provide an introduction to sociology. You are not expected to have done any sociology before, although some students will have done courses at A Level or Access.

SP10002 and SP10001 are introductory social policy courses. Social policy is not taught in schools or colleges, so not many students will have taken courses in social policy before.

SP10059 and SP10159 are focused on research methods and the study skills you will need in your degree programme.

Non-Social Work students should choose TWO additional 6 credit units in semester 1 and a further TWO 6 credit units in semester 2 to make up your full programme for Year 1. Please note some language and psychology options are 12 credit units which run over two semesters. If you choose a 12 credit unit in semester one this will mean you will automatically use up one of your 6 credit options for semester two. Check your programme details on SAMIS for information about the options available to you.

For the BSc (Hons) International Development with Economics, the compulsory units are as follows:

Semester 1

ES10010 Introductory Economics (All Year Unit)

SP10204 Introduction to International Development

SP10206 Thinking and working cross-culturally: Introduction to social analysis of development

ES10007 The Modern World Economy

SP10059 Academic and research skills I: introduction to qualitative methods

Semester 2

SP10203 Development Economics: microeconomic perspectives

SP10205 Introduction to Politics of Development

SP10159 Academic and research skills II: introduction to quantitative methods

For the BSc (Hons) Criminology, the compulsory units are as follows:

Semester 1

SP10336 Understanding crime and Justice (All Year Unit)

SP10337 Social Justice and criminal justice policy (All Year Unit)

SP10043 Understanding Society: British Global context

SP10059 Academic and research skills I: introduction to qualitative methods

SP10338 Critical Reading in criminology

Semester 2

ED10347 Deviance: psychological and sociological perspectives

SP10044 Classical sociological theory

SP10159 Academic and research skills II: introduction to quantitative methods

OPTION CHOICES

Information about how and when to choose your option units can be found at:

www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues/information/students/online-unit-selection

Students studying for the BSc Criminology and BSc Social Work and Applied Social Studies degree programme do not have any options as all of the course units are mandatory.

BSc International Development with Economics students have no optional units in semester one, Year 1. They must select ONE 6 credit optional unit in semester two to make up their full programme for Year 1. Details of the optional units are available at <http://www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues/2019-2020/sp/UHSP-AKB21.html>

BSc Sociology, BSc Social Policy, BSc Sociology and Social Policy, and BSc Social Sciences students must select TWO 6 credit optional units in semester one and semester two. Details of the optional units available for these programmes can be found by following the links on this page: <http://www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues/2019-2020/sp/sp-proglist-ug.html>

An optional unit is a unit you can choose to contribute towards your 30 credits for each semester. Information about how to choose optional units can be found at: www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues/information/students/online-unit-selection.html.

You can choose your options from those provided by DSPS, or you can go outside the Department and choose units that are available for students on your programme or 'generally available units' (GAUs), which are available to students on most programmes across the University. You will find descriptions of the units you can choose on SAMIS and the online programme catalogues for each department. Some units have pre-requisites which means you need to have completed an earlier unit, so it is worth looking ahead to later years to make sure you are not prevented from taking a unit because you have not completed the pre-requisites.

You will find that options are available from other Departments in all three years of your programmes, and that these can form a coherent pathway in Politics, Economics, International Development or Psychology to complement the major part of your degree. You may be able to take units from other Departments as 'Director of Studies approved units'. If you want to take a unit that is not normally available to students on your programme and is not a GAU you can discuss this with your Personal Tutor who will then refer you to your Director of Studies. You will also need to seek approval from the Director of Studies in the 'host' Department before then seeking approval from your own Director of Studies.

You can find out what GAUs exist here: <http://www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues/2019-2020/zz/UXXX-AFN99.html>

All units carry a prefix, indicating which department the unit belongs to:

- SP = Department of Social and Policy Sciences
- ES = Department of Economics
- ED = Department of Education
- PL = Department of Politics, Languages & International Studies
- MN = School of Management
- PS = Department of Psychology

You may not choose an option that is above the level of your current year of study, but final year students may choose up to two Year 2 options during their final year.

Units may be withdrawn if an insufficient number of students enrol to take them or if for any reason the University is unable to offer them. Option choices cannot be guaranteed. New units may also be introduced, and you will be advised of these. A wide range of possible combinations is permitted but are subject to timetabling constraints, particularly where units are provided outside the Department.

We will provide you with suggested pathways during your first year, so you can consider specialising in an area of your choice and interest during your degree.

You will receive an email notification at the relevant point in the year when online unit selection is available. If you want to discuss your option choices, please contact your personal tutor/Director of Studies.

The system will open for you to choose your optional units at 10.15am on Thursday 26th September and the deadline for choosing options for your first year of study is 5pm Wednesday 2nd October 2019, when the system will close. You must register your option choices on SAMIS by this date. If you do not do this, you will not be included on mailing lists for your units and will miss important information about assessment, such as the time of an exam. The space available on units operates on a first-come-first-served basis. Please note that you are to choose units for the whole of your first year (both semesters). During the first week of semester you can attend any unit to help you decide what to choose, but you can only change if you have a good reason.

In April of your first year of study, you will be invited to choose your options for the whole of Year 2. We will give more advice on this at that time.

Language options

There are two ways of choosing a language option. Students with a good A Level pass or equivalent in the appropriate language may choose units provided by the Department of Politics, Languages and International Studies (PoLIS). Credits achieved in this way will count towards your degree. These options are listed on SAMIS in the programme description and if you choose one of them you would normally do so for the whole year. Students who take the International Development Degree are able to take this as an additional 3 credit unit and not as an optional unit (please see paragraph below), this should be discussed with your personal tutor or director of studies to which is suited for this degree.

Alternatively, you may choose to study languages through the Foreign Languages Centre (FLC). These courses start from beginners' level and you can check which level is appropriate for you. Some of these units are worth 3 credits, others are worth 6 credits. The former are elective units, and do not count towards your degree. The 6 credit FLC units can count towards your degree; please contact your Director of Studies to ask for approval for these units to be credit-bearing. In either case, the fact that you have taken a FLC unit, and the result you have obtained, will be recorded on your transcript of results. Languages available, at different levels, include French, German, Italian, Spanish, Mandarin Chinese, Russian and Japanese. If you wish to do these you will need to contact the Foreign Languages Centre in the first instance so that they can assess what level of study would be appropriate for you.

English language units are available too from the English Language Centre to students across the University. Some of these are geared to the needs of international students, and some to the needs of native English speakers. These courses will not count towards your degree but they may help you to improve your essay writing skills.

PLACEMENTS

As part of the BSc Criminology, BSc Sociology, BSc Sociology and Social Policy, BSc Social Sciences, BSc Social Policy, and BSc International Development with Economics students have the opportunity to take a placement year during the third year of their degree programme. This is voluntary, and students are able to transfer onto (or off) the 4 year programme during their second year of study. Overseas placements are possible, but students pursuing these opportunities usually take the initiative in identifying and liaising with the organisation in question.

The University is committed to supporting placements in order to enhance the vocational relevance of its programmes and the learning experience of its students. Each Faculty and the School has a dedicated placements team to support and guide you through the process of applying for, securing and successfully completing a placement. The contact details for your Placements Manager details are in the front of this Handbook.

You can expect to receive placement preparation support on the application process (i.e. CV writing, production of covering letters and applications, interview skills, assessment centres) as well as practical placement support (such as where to find information on visas, accommodation, money etc). For some placements, there is a requirement for a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check and you should liaise with your placements support team for further guidance.

Before going on placement you will receive a University Placement Handbook containing generic advice and information for whilst you are on placement.

<https://www.bath.ac.uk/publications/placements-handbook/>

If you are on a placement of one semester or longer in the UK you can normally expect to be visited by staff at least once during your placement. If you are on a placement overseas, staff will either visit, where practical, or arrange an alternative way of keeping in contact.

During the placement you will be expected to complete the Personal Objectives and Learning Outcomes forms (POLO) or equivalent (which helps you to structure your placement objectives and personal development) [and the Goals, Objectives and Learning form (GOLF), where applicable (for assessing your performance against these objectives).]

A re-induction activity will be conducted to welcome you back from placement and update you on any changes that may have occurred at the University during your time away. This will involve a welcome session with your Director of Studies, who will remind students of academic rules and conventions and update students on any changes to academic practices and units.

Social Work and Applied Social Studies Placements

Social Work and Applied Social Studies students have to complete and pass two periods of assessed practice learning or placements. In Semester 1 of Year 2 and Semester 2 of Year 3, students will spend the semester in a practice learning setting. All practice learning opportunities are full time i.e. 37.5 hours a week. They may take place in a voluntary, private, independent or statutory agency.

The emphasis of practice learning in Year 2 is on broadening student understanding of social work, offering opportunities to experience work with service users and reflecting on strategies to enable work within an anti-racist and anti-discriminatory framework. In Year 3 students are expected to work towards practice at a qualifying level by the end of the period of practice learning.

All the agencies offer ample opportunities to work with service users, learn and develop skills, knowledge and values in social work. Placements offer students opportunities to learn in and from practice. Regular and structured supervision during placement enables students to discuss and critically reflect on practice. Supervision is also the forum where students can explore theories, practice methods and the value base of social work as well as identify and experience strategies for practice. All Social Work placements are found by the placements officer and not by the student for this degree programme.

Alongside the learning is the assessment of practice and students are required to write reflectively about their practice, providing evidence of competence to their practice educator (PE) or off site practice educator (OSPE).

The practice units and value requirements are assessed against the Professional Capabilities Framework (PCF). Students are required to provide written evidence of all applicable domains of the PCF within the Practice Units (see Social Work and Applied Social Studies placement handbook).

STUDENT EXCHANGE/STUDY ABROAD

Please note that the university does not offer study abroad options for SPS students. Summer schools at partner universities such as East Asia are sometimes organised through the Universities International Mobility Office (IMO). Information regarding these are circulated to students. SPS does not manage this information and interested students should contact the IMO to enquire about such opportunities.

SPS Does however host visiting exchange students every year, usually from Canada, China and the USA, SPS students are encouraged to make contact with them. Please also note that the placement year offers an opportunity to pursue international interests if you so wish.

SUBMISSION DEADLINES

Submission deadlines for coursework can be found in Unit Handbooks and on the Moodle page for the Unit. Make sure you read the Unit Handbooks carefully to understand the assessment requirements; each unit has its own requirements. These can vary from online only submission to having to hand a hard copy of a particular piece of coursework

It is important that you make sure you have the correct submission information which also includes the correct deadline date and time. Please note that if you are taking units from outside the department, they also may have different requirements to your own department, so it is extremely important to check this.

SPS MARKING CRITERIA

	Mark Range	Knowledge and understanding of relevant ideas and methods	Ability to apply relevant ideas and methods to specific problems or issues, and take a critical approach	Clarity of expression, presentation of material and overall structure (including referencing)
FAIL	0-14	No or very little evidence of any relevant reading.	Superficial, weak or incomplete engagement with any relevant material, Mainly common-sense assertions reproduced uncritically.	Little evidence of any structure, poor organization and expression. No referencing or references lacking basic information.
	15-34	Little evidence of relevant reading; reading has been misunderstood or misrepresented. Most of the material provided is irrelevant. Major gaps in knowledge and/or understanding of the material. Failure to demonstrate understanding of key concepts.	Poor understanding of the question/title or task set. No connections between reading and the question/title set. No conclusions drawn from material used.	A basic structure to the work is present (e.g. an introduction), but poor use of language. Very little referencing.

	34-35	Some reading may be relevant, but much is from inappropriate sources (such as non-academic media outlets), lecturer notes, and/or has been misunderstood or misrepresented. Large amounts of irrelevant material. Major gaps in knowledge and/or understanding of the material. Failure to demonstrate understanding of key concepts.	Little understanding of the question/title or task set as demonstrated by limited links between material used and question/title or task set. No, or inappropriate, conclusions drawn from material used.	A basic structure to the work is present (introduction and/or conclusion), but poor use of language. Some points may be references but referring is incomplete.
3 rd	40-42	Core 3rd class attributes: Evidence of selection of material from a limited range of sources; few if any sources beyond class/lecture notes, limited evidence of research, some appropriate material used but not adequately developed or explained. Key issues may be identified but understanding is partial.	Mostly descriptive, with limited analysis and reflection. Weak sequencing of material and lacking overall coherence. Does not appropriately or explicitly answer the question/title/task.	Some elements of an appropriate structure (introduction and/or conclusion) but no signposting in the text. Main sources referenced, but referencing incomplete.
	43-46 Core 3rd class attributes plus:	Ability to communicate identifiable facts and concepts but lack of clarity, accuracy and detail.	Little connection between reading and the question set.	Poor use of language and/or referencing.
	47-49 Core 3rd class attributes plus:	Evidence of the ability to write descriptively about a subject, showing some understanding, but still no attempt to generalise or discuss.	Some attempt at making connections between reading and the question set, but ideas not adequately explored.	Poor use of language and/or referencing.

	Mark Range	Knowledge and understanding of relevant ideas and methods	Ability to apply relevant ideas and methods to specific problems or issues, and take a critical approach	Clarity of expression, presentation of material and overall structure (including referencing)
--	-------------------	--	---	--

2ii	50-52	Core lower 2nd class attributes: The focus of the question/title/task is understood and key issues are identified. Limited reading beyond class/lecture notes, some evidence of independent research. Some key concepts, issues, debate and/or theories explained, but explanations are partial/incomplete.	Some evidence of engagement with material that goes beyond description. Some relevant material is selected and applied to the question/problem/task. Limited attempts to synthesise material into a coherent piece of work. Provides an appropriate answer to the question/title/task.	Appropriate use of language most of the time, broadly appropriate structure. Some evidence that an appropriate argument or line of thinking is being developed with a related conclusion. Main sources correctly referenced.
	53-56 Core lower 2nd class attributes plus:	Some attempt to discuss topics and provide examples, but explanations partial or incomplete.	Some evidence of independent research and ability to identify key areas, but lacking in depth and scope.	Clear structure, with appropriate use of language and constructs throughout.
	57-59 Core lower 2nd class attributes plus:	Good work, which engages with material beyond description, but without effectively drawing on relevant additional materials.	Some demonstration of good ability to integrate information beyond class notes.	Clear structure, appropriate use of language, basic reference section.
2i	60-62	Core Upper 2nd class attributes: Evidence of reading from an appropriate range of recommended sources. Key issues, concepts and debates are identified and explained clearly but there may be some missing elements. No significant weaknesses in knowledge or understanding.	Terms of the question/title/task are understood. Material is synthesized and deployed effectively to address the question/title/task explicitly. Analysis is informed by appropriate theoretical perspectives. Some awareness of competing/alternative ways of analysing key issues and of critical thinking.	Clear structure, including an effective introduction and a conclusion, which is appropriate to the question/title/task. Concise use of language, but argument sometimes lacks coherence. Most material used is correctly referenced.
	63-66 Core upper 2nd class attributes plus:	Well-constructed answer demonstrating understanding of broader reading from recommended sources, addressing all relevant parts of the question.	Demonstration of appropriate wider reading and appropriate use of examples to illustrate points and justify arguments.	Clear structure, with very good use of appropriate technical/conceptual language. All material correctly referenced.
	67-69 Core upper 2nd class attributes plus:	Good links made between evidence and the task set, no significant weaknesses in knowledge or understanding across all parts of the question. Work of very good quality.	Evidence that responses are theoretically informed and one or two very good examples of a critical/analytical approach.	Coherent and concise arguments formed using appropriate technical/conceptual language. Very good range of correctly referenced material.

	Mark Range	Knowledge and understanding of relevant ideas and methods	Ability to apply relevant ideas and methods to specific problems or issues, and take a critical approach	Clarity of expression, presentation of material and overall structure (including referencing)

Marks over 70% are 'spot' marks of 70%, 74%, 79%, 85%+.

FIRST	70	Core 1st class attributes: Material selected from a wide range of appropriate sources that shows evidence of appropriate independent reading. No significant gaps in knowledge or understanding.	Concepts are defined, explained and applied directly, explicitly and critically to the question/title/task. Material is deployed in a manner that is critically self-aware. Relevant theories are analysed and compared. Evidence used is critically assessed. The author displayed some originality.	The argument is well-organised, coherent and sophisticated. The structure is very clear. Technical and/or theoretical language is used appropriately, skilfully and creatively. Referencing and bibliography are complete.
	74 + 79 Core First class attributes plus:	Consistently uses material drawn from a wide range of sources, including other disciplines where appropriate. Selects appropriate material from sources used, and gives reasons for selections made.	The author demonstrates an excellent grasp of relevant concepts, issues, debates and theories. The author is able to distinguish between primary and secondary issues, and to show why some issues are more important than others.	The author demonstrates an excellent ability to develop an argument. The work is confident, with virtually no errors.
	85+ Above First class attributes plus:	The author demonstrates evidence of extensive targeted independent reading. They are also starting to make a contribution to existing debates.	The author was able to engage with and push existing conceptualisations and debates forward, creatively. This work is highly original.	A creative argument, that demonstrates exceptional awareness of the nuance and complexity of the subject, flows throughout the essay. The writing style, presentation and referencing is of an outstanding quality.

PRIZES

These prizes are awarded annually to Final Year Students, provided that the judges are satisfied that an adequate standard has been reached to merit the award.

- The Nancy Burton Prize for Social Work - This prize will go to the BSc Social Work student graduating with the highest overall degree average.
- The Prize for Excellence in Social Policy and Social Sciences – The prize will go to the student with the highest overall degree average graduating from the following programmes: BSc Social Policy, BSc Sociology and Social Policy, or BSc Social Sciences.
- The Peter Cressey Prize for Sociology – The prize will go to the BSc Sociology student graduating with the highest overall programme average.
- The Geof Wood Prize for International Development – The prize will go to the BSc International Development with Economics student graduating with the highest overall programme average.
- Excellence in Research Prize for Social Policy Sciences: The prize will go to the graduating student from an undergraduate programme in Social Policy Sciences who has the highest mark for their dissertation.
- The Caroline Prize - The Prize is awarded annually to a student from what was the 'School of Social Sciences', or any other Department or outside Institution, who is taking an undergraduate level programme of at least one semester duration taught within Social Sciences.

A monetary award may sometimes be associated with each prize, but the important reward is the recognition of a high academic standard.

FURTHER STUDY

Information on opportunities for further study after the programme can be found here:

UNIT AND PROGRAMME CHANGES

We continually look for ways to develop and improve our programmes. For example:

- it might be desirable to make some updates to the content of the curriculum to reflect the latest developments in a particular field of study
- a review of the assessments across a programme (including feedback received) might identify that changes to an assessment would better support student learning.

Students who would be affected by proposed changes are consulted about them, either via their Staff/Student Liaison Committee or directly, depending on the nature of the change.

In addition, it is sometimes necessary to make changes due to unforeseen or unavoidable circumstances. For example:

- the accrediting body for a programme may require changes to be made to it
- it may not be possible to run a particular unit because a member of teaching staff with specialist expertise leaves the University and we are unable to find a suitable replacement
- it may not be viable to run a particular optional unit in a given year because very few students select it.

In such cases, the University will always try to ensure that any impact on students is minimised and that students are informed of the changes at the earliest opportunity.

All programme and unit changes are managed through a formal process set out by the University. The aim of this is to ensure that changes are academically appropriate and properly supported, take place in a timely manner, and safeguard the interests of students.

HOW YOUR PROGRAMME IS REVIEWED AND MONITORED

The University has in place a number of ways to ensure that programmes remain up-to-date, issues are dealt with and improvements made.

All programmes and units are monitored annually, looking at evidence for what is working well and identifying any actions that need to be taken. Taking account of student feedback, including feedback given through unit evaluation and other student surveys, is a key part of unit and programme monitoring.

Departments also conduct periodic reviews of their programmes. These provide an opportunity for in-depth review and development, involving input from students and from an adviser(s) external to the University.

STUDY AND SUPPORT: GETTING THE MOST OUT OF YOUR STUDIES

ACCESSING UNIVERSITY EMAIL

You will need to use your University username and password to access your University email account. You are able to access your email by going to <http://outlook.office.com/>. Your username also forms your email address (username@bath.ac.uk).

The University will often communicate with you about a range of important matters requiring action from you, including registration, unit enrolment, assessment, degree ceremonies, and matters such as tuition fees, via your University email account. It is a University requirement (Regulation 1.3) that you access your University email account regularly, even if you are out on placement or study abroad.

You therefore have a responsibility to ensure that your University email account can receive incoming mail and that you read your email regularly.

Once you graduate or withdraw from your course, you will receive an email stating exactly when your account will be closed. The email will give at least 30 days' notice.

Further information

Email guidance: www.bath.ac.uk/guides/accessing-your-university-email-and-calendar
Regulation 1.3: www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students

YOUR STUDENT RECORD: SAMIS

SAMIS is the University's student records database. It provides an online portal where you can view details about your registration, update your contact details, and do other things such as viewing exam information, viewing your confirmed assessment results, and (where applicable) choosing optional units.

Further information

<https://samis.bath.ac.uk>

MOODLE

Moodle is the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) used at the University of Bath. It is used by academic Departments to support learning and teaching at programme and unit level. It provides a platform for the delivery of resources and online activities, and can also support student interaction and collaboration.

Further information

<https://moodle.bath.ac.uk/course/view.php?id=54484>

PERSONAL TUTORING

When you join the University, you will be assigned a Personal Tutor who will help you to get the best out of your university experience. Your Personal Tutor will:

- support you in your academic progress and personal development
- discuss with you programme choices, placement opportunities and future career plans
- provide you with a reference for your placement or career
- guide you to sources of expert help with any personal/welfare issues.

Your Personal Tutor should arrange to meet with you on at least three occasions in your first semester and at least once per semester thereafter. This enables you both to get to know each other, such that you can raise any issues with your tutor and your tutor can support you fully through your programme. It is important that you attend scheduled meetings with your Personal Tutor and let them know in advance if you cannot attend. Many of these meetings may be in small groups but you can also request a one-to-one meeting.

If you should have reason to wish to change your Personal Tutor, please contact your Director of Studies to discuss the matter.

LANGUAGE AND ACADEMIC SKILLS SUPPORT AND DEVELOPMENT

To help you get the best out of your studies and your future employability, we offer all our students a comprehensive range of free, year-round skills and personal development opportunities designed to complement your academic programme.

These opportunities have been designed to give you choice and flexibility to help you get the support and development you need at the time you most need it.

To develop your academic skills, you can choose from classes, tutorials, drop-in sessions, workshops and online resources, for example:

- create well-written, clearly structured essays, reports and dissertations
- think critically in order to enhance your writing
- manage information sources and literature effectively
- give polished and effective academic presentations
- manage and analyse numbers, data and statistics
- use IT tools and resources effectively
- enhance your existing language proficiency, or learn a new language.

There are many opportunities available to you through our Careers Service and Students' Union to help you develop your skills and prepare for the workplace. For example:

- writing an effective job application and CV
- succeeding at interview or assessment centre
- leading and managing projects
- chairing meetings
- running a club or society.

RECOGNITION FOR EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES: THE BATH AWARD

The Bath Award is open to all undergraduate and postgraduate students. It recognises the experiences, skills and strengths you have gained through participation in extra-curricular activities, volunteering, work experience, part-time work, global opportunities and more. The Award enables you to reflect on your personal development as a student and future employee. Completing the Award will enhance your employability, increase self-awareness of your skills and enable you to articulate these effectively to future employers.

THE LIBRARY

The Library is open 24 hours a day, all year round, and provides print and electronic materials and information services to support study and research across the University. It houses over 500 PCs, wireless networking throughout, and provides areas for both quiet individual study and group work. Alongside 360,000 printed books, it offers over 26,000 electronic journals, 516,000 electronic books, 100 databases for information, literature and data searching, the University's exam papers database, and digital versions of the University's academic publications. The Library's electronic services, resources and support materials are all available directly from the Library's web pages (<https://library.bath.ac.uk/home>). The Library's copy and print service provides access to black and white and colour photocopying, laser printing and scanning.

Information specialists, our Subject, School and Faculty Librarians are responsible for services to individual Departments and the School. You will find their contact details, and subject specific guidance on the dedicated web pages they have created. These pages include a large range of recommended resources and support materials and are listed under 'Resources for your Subject' on the Library homepage (<https://library.bath.ac.uk/home>).

Our Subject, School and Faculty Librarians provide individual help to students and staff, as well as teaching information skills in Department and School programmes and through general University skills provision. All new students receive library introduction sessions during the induction period.

COMPUTING SERVICES AND FACILITIES

Using your University username and password, you will be able connect to University computers, University email, the internet, file storage and printing services. You will also be able to get access to a range of free software, including Office 365 and antivirus. You can work from any location using our UniDesk and UniApps service, which gives you access to your files as if you were on campus.

If you would like to know more about these services, and how to access them, please visit: <http://www.bath.ac.uk/campaigns/setting-up-your-it-as-a-student/>

IT Support is available from the IT Service Desk on Level 2 of the Library or online at: <https://www.bath.ac.uk/guides/getting-it-support-and-advice/>

If you require learning assistance, Computing Services can support you with your computing needs. The Assistive Technology Team is available to provide advice and support. Additional resources are available, which include the Assistive Technology room, specialist software and computer hardware - including laptops for loan. Find out more at <https://www.bath.ac.uk/professional-services/assistive-technology/>

The IT shop in the Library stocks popular products such as academic software, DVDs, network cables and headsets. You can order many further IT products through the shop. Prices are often lower than in high street shops.

The Audio-Visual Unit also provides a range of equipment and facilities that can be used in support of learning. Find out more at <https://www.bath.ac.uk/professional-services/audio-visual/>

RECORDING OF LECTURES

'Lecture capture' technology is widely used on campus to record lectures. Lecturers on your units will inform you if lectures will be recorded and the recordings made available for you to view again online. Where provided, lecture recordings are made available as an additional resource for personal study and revision purposes, and you can pause and rewind recordings when you re-watch them. The University cannot guarantee recordings (for example in the event of a technical fault) and recordings are not made available indefinitely.

As set out in Ordinance 22.4, students are not permitted to copy or redistribute lecture recordings, or to make their own recordings of lectures. However, the University may permit students with a disability to record lectures where this is a reasonable adjustment under the provisions of the Equality Act, in order to give these students equal access to educational opportunities. In such circumstances the lecturer will be informed that the lecture is being recorded and the student may use the recording for their own personal study purposes only. Students with a disability should contact the Disability Service for further advice.

STUDENT REPRESENTATION

Feeding back your views to the University

The University is committed to reviewing and continually improving its practice. The University aims to engage students as active partners in their education (Education Strategy 2016/21). Three key ways in which we seek feedback are through:

- a) Staff / Student Liaison Committees (SSLCs)
- b) Surveys and evaluations
- c) The Students' Union.

We also use focus groups, Departmental working parties, 'Lets' Talk' events, in-class opportunities and various kinds of feedback sessions.

You can get actively involved in determining how your educational and student experiences are organised by becoming active in the Students' Union, by letting your Department know that you are interested in contributing, and by working in partnership with staff in your academic department and across other services at the University to co-creation solutions to improve the learning and teaching, and wider student experience.

On top of the informal mechanisms like talking with your Unit Convenor and your Director of Studies, every Department has a formal system so that all students can comment routinely, in confidence and anonymously on the learning experience they have received. Such comments help us to check that:

- you have a clear idea of the aims and requirements of each unit you study
- our teaching is effective and stimulating
- the advice and feedback we provide on your work is helpful
- our resources are suitable.

You will be asked to complete a short online unit evaluation for units you have studied. You will also be asked to complete surveys from time to time on your experience of the programme as a whole. Please complete each evaluation fully, thoughtfully, and candidly. In particular, please tell us not only your opinion but also the reasons behind your opinion.

When we receive responses to evaluations, we analyse them – especially the positive suggestions for change and concerns that are voiced. ‘We’ doesn’t just mean the University but students and their elected representatives too! Evaluation and survey data are always encouraged to be looked at in partnership between students and staff, so that solutions to the issues raised can be co-created together. Student feedback and the resulting actions are taken into consideration in annual monitoring of units and programmes. Survey results are discussed at committees where student representatives have the opportunity to input into any action plans developed in response to the issues raised.

Your feedback is important to both the University and the Students’ Union. Please keep telling us what is going well and what needs to get better. Try not to store issues up for a future SSLC meeting or the Unit Evaluations. Talking early to your Unit Convenor and Director of Studies will mean that any potential issues can be solved sooner thus enhancing your own experience on a particular Unit. We will communicate how feedback on units and programmes, and the wider student experience, has been acted upon.

Student representatives

As a student of the University, you are automatically a member of the Students’ Union (although you have a right to opt out - see section below on Students’ Union membership). Officers of the Students’ Union represent students’ interests on University decision-making bodies. In addition, numerous elected student representatives play important roles on various Departmental, Faculty/School and University committees. All student representatives are elected through online elections facilitated by the Students’ Union.

There are many opportunities for elected student representatives. If you are elected to serve on Departmental, Faculty/School or University committees you will be expected to represent the views of your fellow students and provide feedback following meetings.

Student representation on Committees

Departmental level:	Each Department has at least one Departmental Staff / Student Liaison Committee (SSLC). These comprise of several elected student members, known as Academic Reps, and an equal or smaller number of staff members. Academic Reps are elected at the beginning of every academic year through online elections. Their role involves collecting the views of the students on their programme and attending SSLCs where they represent these views to their Department. The Students’ Union reviews minutes from SSLCs and other committees, meetings, forums and student insight and uses this to present a summary report for the University highlighting issues, which need to be addressed. There is also provision for student membership of the Department Learning, Teaching and Quality Committee: normally one undergraduate and one postgraduate (taught) representative.
----------------------------	--

	Academic Reps attend Students' Union meetings. These take place regularly during the academic year in order to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • keep Students' Union Officers and fellow Academic Reps informed of academic developments throughout the University • discuss common problems and interests affecting Departments • gather student opinions and views to be used by the University and the Students' Union • update Academic Reps on key issues. Do contact your student Academic Reps at any time to inform them of good practice or areas for enhancement in your units and programme. This is normally the person who represents your year or degree scheme on the Departmental SSLC.
Faculty/ School level:	Student representatives are also elected as Faculty Reps to sit on a number of Faculty/School level committees such as the Faculty/School Board of Studies and the Faculty/School Learning, Teaching and Quality Committee. Faculty Reps are also members of the Students' Union Academic Exec Committee.
University level:	University committees with student representation include the Council/Senate/Students' Union, the University Learning, Teaching and Quality Committee, the Courses and Partnerships Approval Committee, and Senate.

If you are interested in opportunities to represent student views, please contact the Students' Union: academicreps@bath.ac.uk

The Students' Union, with support from the University, runs a full training programme for student representatives, which includes initial training at the beginning of the academic year and ongoing support and development opportunities.

If you need to raise a concern, remember there are various routes open to you. You can discuss issues directly with a lecturer, your Personal Tutor, or the Director of Studies. Individual problems are often more readily resolved in this way. The Students' Union Advice and Support Service, described below, also provides students with information and confidential advice.

STUDENTS' UNION MEMBERSHIP

All students registered with the University are automatically given membership of the Students' Union; however you have the right not to be a member. For further information on opting out of this membership, please go to the Code of Practice for the Students' Union:

www.bath.ac.uk/university-secretary/guidance-policies/codeofpracticebusu.html

STUDENT SUPPORT

Most students find there are occasions when it can help to talk to someone about a personal problem or issue. In many cases your Personal Tutor, Director of Studies, or Wellbeing Adviser (see the Wellbeing Service section below) will be able to help. However, sometimes more specialist help is needed. The University has a range of professional support services that you can approach directly. Your two main contact points are Student Services at the Roper Centre in 4 West and the Advice and Support Service in the Students' Union.

Student Services

Student Services can provide advice and support on a range of issues including:

- counselling and mental health
- disability issues
- money and funding
- wellbeing and welfare.

You can make an individual appointment or just pop in to our daily drop-in sessions.

Student Services can also provide letters confirming student status for a variety of purposes, which can be requested by logging on to SAMIS: <https://samis.bath.ac.uk>

The Roper Student Services Centre in 4 West is open from 9.30am to 4.30pm throughout the year (tel: 01225 383838). Services are also available from the Virgil Building in Bath city centre.

For the full range of Student Services, see: <http://go.bath.ac.uk/student-services> or email: studentservices@bath.ac.uk

The Students' Union Advice and Support Service

The Students' Union Advice and Support Service provides information and advice for students on a range of topics affecting their education and wellbeing. This includes academic issues such as Individual Mitigating Circumstances (see the section in this Handbook on Assessment), changing course or assessment offences. They also provide Housing Advice on topics such as contract checks, landlord issues and council tax.

In addition, The SU Advice & Support team is one of the four departments at University of Bath that students can report Harassment, Discrimination or Bullying incidents to as part of the #NeverOK Report & Support campaign.

The Students' Union Advice and Support Service is open Monday to Friday 9.00am to 5.00pm in term time (from 10.00am on Fridays) and 10.00am to 4.00pm during vacations (tel: 01225 386906, email: suadvice@bath.ac.uk)

The Advice and Support Service also supports the SU Diversity and Support groups – details of which can be found at: thesubath.com/diversity-support

For the full range of services see: thesubath.com/advice

Further information

A guide to the wide variety of support and information available to students can be found at: www.bath.ac.uk/students and the Students' Union website: thesubath.com

Wellbeing Service

The University's professionally qualified Wellbeing Advisers provide a welfare and wellbeing service to all our students. You can talk to a Wellbeing Adviser about anything and we are also available evenings and weekends.

We hold daily drop-in sessions on campus, including weekends and University vacations. Drop-in sessions are also held at the Virgil Building in Bath city centre and we run activities over Christmas and Easter for students who remain in Bath.

ADVICE FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The Student Immigration Service provides immigration advice and support for all international students, including a 'check and send' service if you need to send a Tier 4 visa application to the Home Office. The Service offers workshops, a daily drop-in service, advice via email, phone and web-based platforms, or individual appointments can be made through the Helpdesk in The Roper Student Services Centre, 4 West.

Further information

www.bath.ac.uk/topics/visas

Student Services organise University-wide induction and welcome events in September. Events are also organised for incoming exchange students in the first week of each semester.

For students who join outside of the standard semester dates, induction and welcome events are organised by the relevant Department.

DEALING WITH A PROBLEM INVOLVING THE UNIVERSITY

We want to ensure that, if you have a problem concerning the University, it is resolved as quickly as possible. As described above, there are student representatives on all formal decision-making committees – at Departmental, Faculty/School and University level. Student representatives help to anticipate potential problems and, when problems occur, to raise them so that they can be dealt with promptly. As a result we can often resolve problems before they get to the stage where a formal complaint might be necessary.

The Students' Union offers advice for students on a range of issues through its Advice and Support Service. Its advice is independent of the University. See the section above on Student Support.

Complaints

If you do need to make a complaint, there are procedures in place to deal with it, outlined in the University's Student Complaints Procedure (see below).

These procedures are designed to ensure that your complaint will be dealt with in good faith and that you will not be penalised for complaining. When we receive a complaint, we will first seek to deal with it through informal discussion. If this fails to resolve the issue at hand, you can raise the complaint formally.

There are separate procedures for requesting a review of progression or award classification decisions. See the section in this Handbook on Procedures for Academic Appeals.

Student Complaints: www.bath.ac.uk/guides/student-complaints-procedure

Bullying, harassment and victimisation

We believe that all our students and employees are entitled to be treated with dignity and respect and to be free from discrimination, victimisation, bullying, or any form of harassment. This is set out in the University's policy, Dignity and Respect for Students and Staff of the University of Bath: Policy and Procedure for Dealing with Complaints (below).

This policy and procedure applies to all staff, students and third parties (e.g. contractors to the University). University of Bath launched an online Report and Support tool, where all staff, students, and visitors can report discrimination, misconduct, harassment or assault by using this tool. You can report anonymously or get support from an adviser.

ADVICE FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES, LONG-TERM ILLNESS, AND SPECIFIC LEARNING DIFFICULTIES

If you have a disability and/or specific learning difficulty (such as dyslexia), we strongly advise you to speak to the Disability Service team, your Personal Tutor or Director of Studies as soon as possible and preferably before your programme begins. Referral to the Disability Service will enable us to assess your needs and make arrangements to support you.

Any personal information you give when disclosing your disability will be treated in confidence and made available only to relevant members of staff and only with your permission. If you don't disclose your disability it may be difficult for the University to provide suitable support to help you during your studies. Disclosure will not disadvantage you in any way.

The Disability Service provides advice, guidance, information and support for a range of needs including:

- Autism Spectrum Disorders/Asperger's Syndrome
- dyslexia and other specific learning difficulties
- mental health
- mobility impairments
- sensory impairments
- health conditions such as epilepsy, HIV, diabetes or chronic fatigue.

A screening process is available if you think you may have a specific learning difficulty/dyslexia.

Disability Advisers are also responsible for making applications for alternative arrangements for exams and assessments. Therefore, if you think that, because of a disability, you need alternative exam arrangements (such as extra time or the use of a computer) please discuss this with a Disability Adviser without delay.

PREGNANCY AND MATERNITY

The University is committed to being as flexible as possible in supporting students who become pregnant, decide to terminate a pregnancy or have a very young child. You are not under any obligation to inform the University of these circumstances, but doing so will enable us to put in place arrangements that will assist you in undertaking your programme of study.

You can seek advice, guidance and support via your Director of Studies, Personal Tutor and the University's Student Services.

CARE-LEAVERS, ESTRANGED STUDENTS, REFUGEES AND YOUNG ADULT CARERS

The University is committed to supporting students from a wide range of backgrounds and circumstances including those who are care leavers, from a Foyer or are estranged from their family. We are aware of the challenges students may face when starting university and we want you to get the best out of your programme and university experience. We are able to offer you advice and guidance about settling in, academic studies, funding, accommodation, wellbeing and careers. The service we provide is confidential and entirely optional in relation to the level of support you feel that you may need.

We also offer eligible undergraduate students a non-repayable bursary of £1,000 per academic year plus £1,000 to help with start-up costs and a further £1,000 on graduation – a maximum of £7,000 over a 5-year programme including placement.

EQUALITY, DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The University of Bath is fully committed to fostering an inclusive and supportive working and learning environment, where difference is celebrated and seen as a strength and where all members of the University community (including students, staff, visitors and third parties) have mutual respect for each other. Instances of bullying, harassment and discrimination hinder the development of such an environment and negatively impact on the individual's self-worth and wellbeing, as well as on our wider community. At University of Bath, we value, promote and celebrate inclusion, challenging discrimination and putting equality, diversity and belonging at the heart of everything we do.

CAREERS SERVICE

The University Careers Service can support you through the career planning process, whatever your career aspirations. In addition to providing support with developing your employability, and guidance on how to make informed career decisions, members of the Careers team will provide help with perfecting your CV, practising aptitude tests, and improving your interview skills. Being in regular contact with several hundred major employers, the Careers Service is also a fantastic source for internship and graduate job vacancies for Bath students, as well as the organiser of several major careers fairs each year.

Further information

The Careers Service is open throughout the year, including the vacations.

ASSESSMENT

FEEDBACK TO STUDENTS ON ASSESSMENT

Overview of Policy

This policy sets out the principles under which your feedback will be planned and delivered and relates to both formative and summative work. Anonymous marking applies for most Undergraduate units in the Department of Social and Policy Sciences, with the exception of the final year dissertation, which is double-marked by two members of academic staff. Methods of feedback vary according to assessment type, level of study, and your own individual needs. Written feedback will be provided for all assessed coursework and normally within three working weeks after the final submission deadline. Please note that coursework marks are provisional until they are agreed by the Faculty Board of Studies. Exam marks are also released on SAMIS following the meeting of the Faculty Board of Studies. In addition to this, generic feedback on students' performance in a particular exam is provided via unit Moodle pages. Feedback on your overall academic performance is available from your Personal Tutor. Students are encouraged to seek out this holistic feedback after results for each semester are released on SAMIS.

The Purpose of Feedback

We are committed to providing timely and appropriate feedback to you on your academic progress and achievement. The purpose of feedback is to help you understand (i) the marks or grades you have received for the work submitted, and (ii) how your performance might be improved in future. Feedback therefore enables you to reflect on your progress and plan your academic and skills development effectively. In this respect, feedback, and acting on feedback, is part of the active learning process throughout your programme of study.

Responsibilities of staff

Staff are committed to providing feedback, consistent with the Department's generic marking criteria, which will aid your academic development. The feedback will help you establish what you have done well and where improvement could be made. Unit conveners will provide clear information on the assessment process, the manner in which feedback will be returned to students, and the grading criteria applied to each assessment. The Department's generic marking criteria is available in the Programme Handbook, on Moodle, and in the Appendix to this document. General coursework submission rules can be found in the Programme Handbook. Unit Handbooks and Moodle pages also provide unit-specific information on coursework submission.

Written coursework

Staff are committed to providing written feedback on both formative and summative written assignments within three working weeks of the published submission date. If students require clarification or further feedback, one-to-one sessions can be arranged with the marker.

In-class tests and written examinations

Unit conveners will provide generic feedback on all examinations via the unit Moodle page. There will also be opportunities for one-to-one feedback sessions if required. Generic feedback will outline commonly-made mistakes and the characteristics of especially good answers. If you put in a request to the unit convener, with a specific reason for doing so, you will be able to access your individual examination script, but you will not be allowed to take the script away.

Oral presentations

Staff have a responsibility to explain to students the expected structure and duration of the presentation, as well as the criteria used to assess this form of work. Staff will also explain the form in which students will receive feedback. If the presentation is a summative assessment, written feedback will always be provided. If the presentation is formative, staff might give feedback orally. Feedback will normally be provided within three working weeks of the presentation.

Dissertations

All dissertations are double-marked in DSPS. The markers will provide you with joint feedback on this piece of work. Students can also expect feedback from their supervisor on drafts of some parts of their dissertation. Dissertation handbooks detail the amount of material for which supervisors will provide feedback. Marks for Undergraduate dissertations are released at the end of the examination period in semester two. This is to avoid affecting students' performance in exams.

Student responsibilities

It is in your interest to read and take note of feedback. The feedback does not just explain your mark, but should also guide your further study. As such, you have a responsibility to consider feedback given on your work, to seek to understand it, and to act on it. On receiving your written feedback, if you are unsure of any of the marker's comments, you should take the opportunity to meet with your personal tutor or unit convener to discuss the feedback and ways you can improve your work. It is also your responsibility to locate, understand, and follow the coursework submission rules, including those in other Departments if you are taking a unit outside of DSPS. Finally, students have a responsibility to be familiar with the Department's generic marking criteria (see Appendix 2) and collect feedback in a timely manner.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: REFERENCING AND PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is the use of any published or unpublished work without proper acknowledgement in your references. Plagiarism occurs when a student 'borrows' or copies information, data, or results from an unacknowledged source, without quotation marks or any indication that the presenter is not the original author or researcher.

Another form of plagiarism (and hence cheating) is auto-plagiarism or self-plagiarism. This occurs when a student submits work (whether a whole piece or part of a piece) without acknowledging that they have used this material for a previous assessment.

If you use someone else's work – say, by summarising it or quoting from it – you must reference the original author. This applies to all types of material: not only text, but also diagrams, maps, tables, charts, and so on. Be sure to use quotation marks when quoting from any source (whether original or secondary). Fully reference not only quotations, but also paraphrases and summaries. Such references should then be included in a bibliography or reference list at the end of the piece of work. Note that the need for referencing also applies to web-based material; appropriate references according to the type of work or image should always be given.

There are several acceptable styles for referencing material, within two general systems: Name/date (e.g. Harvard) and Numeric. Ask your Director of Studies or Personal Tutor for further information and advice on the referencing style used on your programme.

Guidance on referencing and plagiarism is available through skills training run by the University and the Students' Union, as well as online resources. Information guides and style sheets are available from the Library, and your Subject Librarian will be able to help with any questions.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: TRAINING AND TEST

As a student registered on a University of Bath award, you are required to undertake the academic integrity training and pass the associated test.

The academic integrity training aims to provide all students with a basic knowledge and understanding of good academic practice. This includes an understanding of plagiarism and other assessment offences, and skills necessary to reference your work appropriately.

The training and test are accessed from Moodle by clicking on the link entitled 'Academic Integrity Initiative': <http://moodle.bath.ac.uk>

If you have any access problems, then please contact the departmental office on hss-socialpolicy@bath.ac.uk in the first instance.

When you have completed the training tutorial and are confident that you have understood it, you should undertake the test.

To pass the test you will need to achieve a mark of 85%. You can take the test as many times as necessary until you pass.

If you do not pass the test, you will need to re-visit the training and/or look at the other guidance available to you (see: www.bath.ac.uk/asc/study-skills/academic-integrity.html) or as required by your Director of Studies, and then take the test again.

You will not be able to progress beyond the next progression point in your studies, irrespective of your programme marks, until you pass this test. Ultimately this means that, if you have not passed the test, you will not be able to receive your award. Your Director of Studies will be able to confirm when the next progression point occurs for your stage of your programme.

Plagiarism detection and personal data

When you hand in a piece of assessed coursework, you will be expected to make a declaration that the work is your own and, where you have re-used your own work and/or used other sources of information, that you have referenced the material appropriately.

The University uses a plagiarism detection service. This service checks electronic, text-based submissions against a large database of material from other sources and, for each submission, produces an 'originality report'. It makes no judgement on the intention behind the inclusion of unoriginal work; it simply highlights its presence and links to the original source.

This service complies with the European General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679) (GDPR). When you register with the University, you give it permission to process your personal data for a variety of legitimate purposes. This includes allowing the University to disclose such data to third parties for purposes relating to your studies. The University, at its sole discretion, may submit the work of any student to a plagiarism detection service (in accordance with Regulation 15.3e – see below) and may make, or authorise third parties to make, copies of any such work for the purposes of:

- i) assessment of the work
- ii) comparison with databases of earlier work or previously available works to confirm the work is original
- iii) addition to databases of works used to ensure that future works submitted at this institution and others do not contain content from the work submitted.

The University will not make any more copies of your work than are necessary, and will only retain these for so long as remains necessary, for these purposes.

Please note that, if at any time the University submits any of your work to a plagiarism detection service, the service will be provided with, and will retain, certain personal data relating to you – for example, your name, email address, programme details and the work submitted. Such data may be transferred by a plagiarism detection service to countries worldwide (some of which may not be governed by EU data legislation) in order for the work to be checked and an originality report generated in accordance with the proper workings of the plagiarism detection service. Personal data is retained indefinitely by the plagiarism detection service upon submission of work. You may ask for your personal data to be removed by contacting the University's Data Protection Officer.

The University's procedures on Examination and Assessment Offences (QA53) are described at: www.bath.ac.uk/quality/documents/QA53.pdf

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: PENALTIES

Any student who is found to have used unfair means in an examination or assessment procedure will be penalised. 'Unfair means' here include:

- cheating - for example, unauthorised use of notes or course material in an examination
- fabrication - for example, reporting on experiments that were never performed
- falsification - for example, misrepresentation of the results of experimentation
- plagiarism, including self-plagiarism (see above)
- unfair collaboration or collusion - representation of work produced in collaboration with another person or persons as the work of a single candidate.

The University's Quality Assurance Code of Practice, QA53 Examination and Assessment Offences, sets out the consequences of committing an offence and the penalties that might be applied.

Penalties for unfair practice will be determined by the Department or by the Faculty/School Board of Studies in line with the procedures set out in QA53. They may include failure of the assessment unit or part of a degree, with no provision for reassessment or retrieval of that failure. Proven cases of plagiarism or cheating can also lead to an Inquiry Hearing or disciplinary proceedings. Claims of inadvertence or ignorance will not be accepted as a basis for mitigation of a penalty.

If you are accused of an offence, the Students' Union's welfare services are available to support you. You have the right to appeal against the outcome of the investigation.

WORD COUNTS

Written coursework tasks will normally have a word range or limit. This is in order to give an indication of the depth and detail of work required, and to ensure that students' submitted work is comparable. You will be required to declare the word count for your work when submitting it for assessment.

If you do not observe the given word range or limit for the coursework task, for example if you exceed the word limit, then a penalty will be applied. The penalty that would apply should be stated in writing when the assignment task is distributed. You should take note of what is included when calculating the total word count (e.g. whether or not contents pages, appendices, footnotes, bibliographies and other elements that are not part of the main text are included). In the department of DSPS the percentage is 10% either way on word counts.

LATE SUBMISSION OF COURSEWORK

You will be expected to hand in all assessed coursework and dissertations/projects by a specified date and time. This is to ensure fairness to all students.

If there are valid circumstances preventing you from meeting a deadline, your Assessments officer may grant you an extension to the specified submission date. Forms to request an extension are available from the student Moodle Page. You will need to provide a description of the circumstances which you feel support your request. You will be asked you to produce supporting evidence. Requested should be sent to the Assessments officer – sps_imc_ect@bath.ac.uk

Please note that:

- if you submit a piece of work after the submission date, and no extension has been granted, the maximum mark possible will be the pass mark
- if you submit work more than five working days after the submission date, you will normally receive a mark of 0 (zero), unless you have been granted an extension.

It is not usually possible to mark coursework anonymously if it is submitted after the deadline.

It is important that you speak to your Personal Tutor/Assessments Officer/Director of Studies as soon as possible if you become concerned about your submission deadlines.

See also the section in this Handbook on Submission deadlines.

INDIVIDUAL MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES

Individual Mitigating Circumstances (IMCs) are the conditions which temporarily prevent you from undertaking assessment or significantly impair your performance in assessment. As such, the measure of their severity is not about impact on you, but the impact on your affected assessment.

Full information and guidance on Individual Mitigating Circumstances and Assessment (including definitions of IMCs, in the document “What are Individual Mitigating Circumstances?”) is available at: www.bath.ac.uk/registry/imc/imc-students.html

It is strongly advised that you become familiar with the available guidance so that you understand the process and timescales should such circumstances arise.

You should make yourself familiar with these definitions, in addition to any IMC guidance offered by your Department, and support and guidance offered through the Disability Service (www.bath.ac.uk/groups/disability-service) or the Students’ Union Advice and Support Centre (thesubath.com/advice).

Your Department/School will be able to advise you on how to submit an IMC claim, and your Director of Studies can help you to understand the potential implications of your IMC claim on your overall progress and/or award, in light of your academic achievement to date and the assessment regulations for your programme.

Your IMC claim must be submitted no more than three days after the affected assessment. The IMC form is available at: www.bath.ac.uk/registry/imc/imc-students.html

You will also need to submit evidence of how your circumstances affected the relevant assessment(s), for example, a medical certificate in the case of illness or injury.

If you know of a potential IMC that may affect your assessment before you begin an examination period or before a submission date, it is important that you speak to your Personal Tutor/Assessments officer as soon as possible. After speaking to the assessments officer, if you do intend to submit a formal IMC claim for the assessment(s) you feel were affected, you will still need to complete the form and follow procedures. You should email any correspondence to sps-imc-ext@bath.ac.uk

ASSESSMENT PROCESSES

Assessment and marking processes at the University are designed to ensure that assessment of your work is fair and consistent, and that academic standards are appropriate and comparable between the University and other higher education institutions. This is achieved in a number of ways.

Marking: Assessments you will complete during your programme are marked according to:

- marking criteria (or assessment criteria) - these are the knowledge, understanding and skills which it has been identified that students should demonstrate in the assessment and which are taken into account during marking. They are based on the learning outcomes being assessed
- marking schemes - these are detailed descriptions of how specific numbers of marks should be assigned against individual components of an answer within the assessment task
- grade descriptors - these are descriptions of the levels of achievement required in order to get a result within a given band of marks (e.g. 70% or more).

Anonymous marking: The University has adopted a principle of anonymous marking in order to protect students and staff from bias, and the perception of bias, in the marking process. It applies to all examinations and, where practical, other assessment. It is not possible to mark all coursework anonymously as in some types of assessment the student can be easily identified by the marker (e.g. presentations, group work, laboratory work) or it might not be practical, or in the student interest, to do so.

Moderation: Both the setting and the marking of assessments are independently checked through a process known as moderation to ensure that questions test the learning outcomes and are set at the right standard, and that marking is consistent and fair. Moderation is conducted by internal examiners and also by your External Examiner (see below).

Boards of Examiners:

Assessment decision-making at the University is the responsibility of Boards of Examiners established at three levels: assessment outcomes go first to Boards of Examiners for Units, then Boards of Examiners for Programmes, then finally to Boards of Studies. Boards of Studies confirm decisions relating to student progression from one stage of the programme to the next and the final award. The assessment marks you are given initially by markers are therefore provisional up until the point when they have been confirmed by the Board of Studies for your programme. An official release date is set when your confirmed results will be made available to you via SAMIS (the University's student records system). An academic appeal can only be made in relation to a confirmed result (see the section in this Handbook on Procedures for Academic Appeals).

All marks for a unit are reviewed at a meeting of a Board of Examiners for Units which will verify that the assessment process has been conducted appropriately and that the marks are an accurate reflection of the standards achieved. On rare occasions a Board of Examiners may decide to recommend a change to the provisional marks assigned initially, based on evidence that there was a problem with the assessment (for instance, disruption during an examination, or an exam paper that was too easy or difficult) which means that the marks assigned initially do not accurately reflect the standards achieved by the candidates. This adjustment is known as scaling and under these circumstances the marks of all affected students will be changed.

EXAMINATIONS – INFORMATION AND GUIDANCE

Rules and procedures for examinations are set out in the University's Regulation 15 and Rule 2. The dates of the University's formal assessment periods are found on the academic year charts: www.bath.ac.uk/publications/academic-year-charts
You will have access to your personal examination timetable via SAMIS approximately seven weeks before the assessment period begins.

If you have learning or support needs and think you may require alternative examination arrangements please seek advice from the Disability Service and inform your Director of Studies as early as possible.

EXTERNAL EXAMINERS

An External Examiner is someone from another University or a professional organisation who is suitably qualified and experienced in the relevant field of study. At least one External Examiner is appointed for each taught programme or group of programmes. The role of External Examiner is an important one in assuring that assessment processes are fair and academic standards are appropriate, and supporting the development of your programme. External Examiners look at draft examination papers and samples of assessed work, and attend Boards of Examiners.

Once a year, External Examiners provide a written report on each taught programme. University staff will look at these reports and a response will be made to the External Examiner's comments. Staff/Student Liaison Committees (SSLCs) also discuss External Examiner reports as part of annual monitoring activity.

You can read the latest External Examiner report for your programme, and the University's response to it. See: <http://go.bath.ac.uk/external-examiners-reports>

The External Examiner(s) for your programme is (are):

Dr Ruth Hamilton - BSc Social Work & Applied Social Studies

Dr Jill Davey (Bournemouth University) - BSc Social Work & Applied Social Studies

TBC – BSc International Development with Economics

Dr Tom Clark (University of Sheffield) — BSc Sociology, BSc Sociology and Social Policy

Dr Shoba Arun (Manchester Metropolitan University) — BSc Social Sciences

Dr Tina Haux (University of Kent) - BSc Social Policy

Dr Laura Placentini (University of Strathclyde) – BSc Criminology

It is not appropriate for students to make direct contact with External Examiners. If you are dissatisfied with the process or outcome of an assessment, and are considering whether to raise this either informally or formally, the sections of this Handbook on Procedures for Academic Appeals and Dealing with a problem involving the University: Complaints give some more information about the University's procedures for student complaints and academic appeals. The section on Student representation sets out how students can engage with the quality management process through which the University considers and responds to External Examiners' comments and suggestions.

ASSESSMENT REGULATIONS

The University's New Framework for Assessment: Assessment Regulations: Phase 1 for first-degree programmes ('NFAAR-UG') specifies the rules governing students' progression from one stage of their programme to the next as well as for the award of degrees. The rules cover all areas of assessment, including supplementary assessment and the extent to which failure may be condoned. If you began the first stage of your programme in or after the 2008/09 academic year, NFAAR-UG applies to you. (If you began before then, please ask your Director of Studies for guidance on assessment).

Your programme is covered by the NFAAR-UG, so your work will be assessed according to its rules.

If at any time you are in doubt about how NFAAR-UG provisions apply to your work, please consult your Director of Studies.

This section highlights areas of the University's assessment framework for the type of programme you are undertaking. It explains the regulations that govern your assessment and outlines how the University makes decisions concerning your progression through your programme and award. Complete information is available in the NFAAR-UG document.

This section may contain terms unfamiliar to you. In addition to the explanations we give below you can find full definitions at:

www.bath.ac.uk/registry/nfa/nfaar-ug-appendix-02.pdf

For full details of the NFAAR-UG, visit: www.bath.ac.uk/registry/nfa

You can find a student introduction to the NFAAR-UG at: www.bath.ac.uk/registry/nfa/nfaar-ug-intro-faq.pdf

For information relating to your programme in the current academic year, visit:

www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues

Your programme and how you are assessed

Within your programme of study, there are compulsory units, (i.e. those units in a programme which must be taken by every student registered on the programme), and optional units (i.e. those units you may choose from a range of options).

The Programme Description: Structure of the programme section in this Handbook shows the structure of your programme. In the table, compulsory and optional units are labelled 'C' and 'O' respectively.

Please note that you can also access this information via links in your programme's description in the Programme and Unit Catalogues available at: www.bath.ac.uk/catalogues

At the end of the table, there are links to the relevant appendices of the NFAAR-UG which state exactly how the assessment rules operate for each stage of your programme.

There are some units that you must pass in order to progress to the next stage of your programme and to achieve the normal award for the programme at the end. Such units are called Designated Essential Units (DEUs). Failure in a DEU – even marginal failure – will prevent you from progressing (or completing) your programme.

Programmes are divided into a number of parts and stages. For full-time students, stages usually correspond to the year of study (so, for example, most first-year students will be in Stage 1 of their programmes).

Within each stage of a programme, the contribution of each unit's assessment to the calculation of the Overall Stage Average (OSA) is normally directly proportional to the credit-values of the unit concerned. Placement units form part of a stage and have a credit weighting. Some placement units carry marks and some are just pass/fail. Only enhanced placement units contribute to the Overall Programme Average (OPA) however.

The normal pass mark for a unit is 40%. In some units, you might need to achieve a threshold mark in one or more component assessments in order to pass the unit overall.

If you fail a stage, you will be required either to repeat the entire stage or to transfer to a Designated Alternative Programme (DAP), if one exists, or if you fail very badly, to withdraw from the University. Where stage repeats are possible within the set limits, the repeating of any stage will be permitted once only.

At the end of each stage a Board of Examiners will decide whether you have passed the stage. The outcome will depend on both (1) your average mark in the stage and (2) the marks you obtain for each unit. Generally, if you pass each of your units you will progress (or, after the final stage, be recommended for an award).

If you fail a large number of units you might fail the stage outright without any opportunity for supplementary assessment. (Further information on supplementary assessment is provided below.)

Particular rules apply to failure of units. They are as follows:

- if you fail any DEUs, you will have to undertake supplementary assessment – unless you have failed so many DEUs that you fail the stage outright
- if you fail any non-DEUs badly (i.e. achieve less than 35%), you will have to undertake supplementary assessment – unless you have failed so many units that you fail the stage outright
- if you fail only non-DEUs marginally (i.e. achieve 35%-39%), you might be able to progress without supplementary assessment. Whether you do progress will depend on the total credit value of the failed units and also on your OSA.

Your degree result is based on the calculation of your Overall Programme Average (OPA) based on the stages in Parts 2 and 3 of your programme. The contribution of each stage of the programme is set out in the table of assessment weightings and decision references in the Programme Description: Structure of the programme section in this Handbook. Follow the links provided in the table to see a clear description of the assessment rules for each stage of your programme. Stages in Part 1 are not included in the OPA calculation.

Supplementary assessment

'Supplementary assessment' is the term normally used for an opportunity given to a student to retrieve failure before starting the next stage of a programme. It generally involves re-doing coursework or re-sitting an examination. Students undertaking supplementary assessments are likely to have to return to the University in the summer to re-sit examinations.

Academic year dates, including the supplementary assessment period, can be found at: <https://www.bath.ac.uk/publications/academic-year-charts>

For the 2018–19 academic year, this period will be 11 August to 23 August 2020.

You are advised not to book holidays during this period, in case you are required to take reassessment to progress to your next year of study. Each unit's method of supplementary assessment is shown in the online Unit Catalogue.

In units where the original assessment is a written examination, supplementary assessment may sometimes take the form of reworking an examination paper, known as 'mandatory extra work', rather than re-sitting the examination. In such cases the pass mark is 70% and a mark below 60% is considered a bad fail.

If you pass all your supplementary assessments, you will be able to progress onto the next stage of your programme.

The outcomes of failing a supplementary assessment are as follows:

- 1) if you fail supplementary assessment in a DEU, you will fail the stage
- 2) if you fail supplementary assessment in a non-DEU badly, you will fail the stage
- 3) if you fail supplementary assessment in a non-DEU marginally, you might be able to progress; whether you may do so will depend on how many units you have failed (and in some cases also on your Overall Stage Average).

Exit awards – CertHE and DipHE

If you leave your programme early you may be eligible for a generic exit award, either a Certificate of Higher Education (CertHE) or a Diploma of Higher Education (DipHE).

www.bath.ac.uk/quality/documents/QA3-certhe.pdf (for the CertHE)

www.bath.ac.uk/quality/documents/QA3-diplhe.pdf (for the DiplHE).

PROCEDURES FOR ACADEMIC APPEALS

Students wishing to submit a request for an academic appeal should refer to Regulation 17 (Conduct of Student Academic Appeals and Reviews):

www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students

You are also strongly advised to read the online guidance provided by the Academic Registry: www.bath.ac.uk/guides/appealing-against-an-academic-decision/

Independent advice about academic appeals is offered by the Students' Union Advice and Support Centre: www.thesubath.com/advice

Regulation 17.16 outlines how you may appeal against formal Board of Studies decisions in respect of one or more of the following:

- i) the student's suitability to progress from one stage of the programme of study to the next
- ii) the student's suitability to remain on the programme of study
- iii) the marks/grades, degrees, certificates or diplomas, and the classifications/grades awarded to the student.

The regulation also sets out the grounds on which an appeal can be based (Regulation 17.16). Please note that:

- dissatisfaction with a mark or set of marks, or any other aspect of the properly exercised academic judgement of the examiners, will not of itself be acceptable as a valid ground for an academic appeal (Regulation 17.1)
- students who have concerns about assessment outcomes that have not yet been approved by a Board of Studies should seek advice in the first instance from their Director of Studies. This may include matters such as suspecting errors in the totalling or transcription of marks/grades, or wishing to seek clarification about the marking process (Regulation 17.2).

All academic appeals must be submitted within the timescales set out in Regulation 17. You must provide the required information and evidence, including a completed AA1 form. The form and further academic appeals guidance are available at:

www.bath.ac.uk/guides/appealing-against-an-academic-decision/

Student Complaints are dealt with under separate procedures. For more information, see:

www.bath.ac.uk/guides/student-complaints-procedure

If you are uncertain as to whether your concerns are a potential academic appeal or a student complaint, please refer to the guidance at:

www.bath.ac.uk/students/support/complaints

UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS FOR STUDENTS

All registered students of the University are subject to the University's Regulations for Students. The Regulations contain rules and other important information about being a student at the University of Bath, including regulations governing the payment of fees due to the University, student discipline, fitness to study and those governing attendance, conduct and progress in studies. They also form part of the formal contract between you and the University. You will find references to the requirements of the Regulations for Students throughout this Handbook. You are advised to download a copy of the Regulations and read them carefully as they contain a lot of important information.

Important information

The full Regulations for Students can be found at:

www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students

REGISTRATION STATUS

Note that only registered students may use the University's facilities, such as email, Moodle and the Library. You will be asked to register online at the start of your programme of study and then to re-register at the start of every academic year thereafter until you have completed your programme. It is a requirement that you register when asked to do so. Tuition fees for each academic year are payable at registration in full or in instalments.

Regulation 1.1 explains the requirement to register. Regulations 2.4 and 2.10 explain the consequences of non-payment of tuition fees:

www.bath.ac.uk/publications/regulations-for-students

ATTENDANCE MONITORING

Guidance and requirements on attendance, including the University's Attendance Monitoring and Engagement Policy for Tier 4 students, are available at:

www.bath.ac.uk/guides/attendance-monitoring-for-tier-4-students

This page also sets out information on when and how to request an authorised absence.

CHANGE IN YOUR CIRCUMSTANCES

It is important to ensure that the University holds your correct, up-to-date, personal and academic details within SAMIS, the University's student records database. If you change your address – either your semester-time or home address – please update your details online at: <https://samis.bath.ac.uk>

If you change your name, you will need to provide valid proof of the change. Please speak to your Department or Faculty/School administration, or Student Services in the Roper Centre, for advice on how to do this.

If you are considering suspending your studies, transferring from one programme to another, or withdrawing from your programme, please discuss your situation with your Director of Studies. They will be able to advise you on an appropriate course of action.

It is a University Regulation (3.1) that you attend regularly. If circumstances are such that you are not able to do so, then please contact your Director of Studies to discuss your situation and agree an appropriate course of action.

Your Personal Tutor will also be able to provide support and guidance on matters relating to your programme.

The financial implications of withdrawing from the University or suspending your studies can be significant.

You will find general information at: www.bath.ac.uk/students/finance/changes-to-your-study/withdrawing-or-suspending-from-your-course

The Student Money Advice Team in Student Services and the Student Finance Office will be able to advise you on the implications for fees in your situation and on how to suspend any student funding you are receiving.

If you are an international student holding a Tier 4 visa, you should consult the advisers in the Student Immigration Service about the implications of suspending or withdrawing from your programme: www.bath.ac.uk/topics/visas

You will need to register any change of academic circumstance, including a change of optional units, with the University. Please speak to your Department or Faculty/School administration who will advise you on how to do this.

DISCLOSURE AND BARRING SERVICE (DBS) CHECKS

Social Work & Applied studies students:

You will be required to undergo a DBS check at the start of your studies (Semester 1, Year 1). If the results of this check show that you have a criminal conviction, caution, reprimand or warning it will be considered under the University's Fitness to Study policy, and if it is deemed unacceptable for the Social Work profession you may be required to withdraw from your programme. DBS checks may be required at the start of your year 2 and year 3 placements and you are strongly advised to sign up for the update service as a part of your initial application in induction week year 1.

www.bath.ac.uk/university-secretary/guidance-policies/fitnesstopractise.pdf

Overseas applicants and UK applicants who have lived abroad for a period of six months or more, within the last five years, will also be required to produce a criminal records check, or "certificate of good character" from those countries that they have lived in.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

The University's Health and Safety Policy Statement is available at:

www.bath.ac.uk/corporate-information/health-and-safety-policy

The Policy Statement is also displayed throughout the campus. Staff within the University Health, Safety and Environment Service (Wessex House 3.12) provide professional advice on health and safety matters and monitor the health and safety performance of the University.

DATA PROTECTION

The University's Data Protection Policy and Guidelines on Data Protection may be accessed via the data protection website: www.bath.ac.uk/data-protection

Some students will be required to do a final year dissertation as part of their studies, and this may involve carrying out research with human subjects. The University has guidance notes for students and academics undertaking research here: www.bath.ac.uk/guides/data-protection-guidance/#academic-research

Students will receive extensive methods training to equip them with the relevant skills and knowledge to carry out the dissertation.
