

Bursary & Scholarship Application Information

Funding Evidence Permission Form 2022-3

For our scholarship and bursary awards at the University of Bath, we consider a range of different widening participation eligibility criteria which includes data on postcode areas, school performance, household income information and more.

We will receive most of the information to help us award our bursaries and scholarships from UCAS and the Student Loans Company as part of the students' applications to study at Bath. However, information about whether a family is in receipt of any means tested benefits (e.g. income assessed benefits such as tax credits) can only be obtained, with permission, from the student's relevant family member, with whom they normally live (e.g. parent(s), step-parent, guardian or partner/spouse).

To enable us to determine whether the student's family member has been/is in receipt of a means tested benefit, please complete this form and provide documentary evidence where applicable:

- we will accept evidence that includes the tax year(s) 2020-21 or later
- document(s) should show: recipient name, address, date and welfare benefit type. Depending on the benefit type, usually the first page of a letter will be sufficient.

We will need to receive this information before the closing dates for students to be considered for the following funding awards:

- 5 September 2022 for the Gold Scholarship Programme, Cowrie Foundation Scholarship and Income Related Scholarships
- Midnight (GMT) 30th November 2022 for the Accommodation Bursary
- 27 January 2023 for the Bath Bursary

Use of data

Please see our bursary and scholarships terms and conditions for full information about these awards and how the University uses data, and also our undergraduate privacy notice. Specific widening participation and household income data will not be shared with a third party but shortlisting and selection for a funding award may give an indication that certain criteria apply to the student.

The University may use the widening participation (WP) data / information you share with us to provide information and advice about the University to the applicant/student. Should they subsequently join the University, the University may also use the data to inform our strategies for supporting them as a new entrant, to inform them about provision that they may be able to access, to monitor student success and for other legitimate reasons.
